“Time is not our friend. There is promising research to help save Abigail, but as we watch Abigail fade away more and more our hearts are breaking. New research is on the horizon to help sustain Abigail’s quality of life until a cure can be found. We as a family are begging you to be a part of saving our children by participating as a sponsor/golfer this September. Much respect and love for all the love and support we have received” Mike and Jen Means - Abigail’s parents

Imagine Alzheimers, but in children. Sanfilippo is a terminal genetic disorder that will slowly take all abilities from Abigail, until it ultimately takes her life. Abigail was “normal” in all aspects until 3 1/2 when she lost part of her hearing. Unfortunately that was the beginning of a terrifying journey for Abigail and her family. She was diagnosed on 1/13/15. She lost her speech in 10/2015. She will continue to regress until she meets a slow and very painful death. There is much research going on. There is so much potential to save her life. How can you help??
